Park Commission Expects Big Things For Stadium in 1950

New Attractions
Likely With Wider
Use by Youth Groups

Though receipts from events and concessions at the Municipal Stadium grossed $65,104 for 1949, more than double the $30,000 estimated by the Village Board, the Park Commission is planning to make this year an even more successful one, not only financially but from the viewpoint of the number of organizations using the facilities at the sports arena.

Figures issued this week show that the paid attendance at the stadium last year, which totaled 349,444, was the greatest of any in the Metropolitan area within a radius of 50 miles except the big league parks in New York City. Despite Newark's 450,000 population, only 80,000 paid to witness the games of the Newark Bears of the International Baseball League and other events at the stadium in that city.

It is interesting to note that more than a quarter of the total income came from the village's 20 percent out in the receipts from the various concessions at the stadium. The reported sales totaling $89,293.35 of which the municipality received $18,058.87. Indications are that this figure will be increased this year.

Probable 1950 Events
In addition to the midgeet and stock car races promoted by Jacob Kadenberg, which are expected to get under way probably a month earlier than in previous seasons, a girls' baseball team probably will make the stadium its home ground, and negotiations are under way for staging professional wrestling and boxing at the sports center. Negotiations are under way for televising certain attractions during the year.

Chairman Furman in a report issued this week, pointed out that the Freeport Stadium was used as the home grounds for baseball, football and track by the Freeport High School and Adelphi College and is the scene of the annual Long Island Intercollegiate championship football game between Hofstra and Adelphi Colleges.

He also reported that various events for charitable purposes were conducted without any compensation being charged by the Village. These events were promoted by the Freeport Fire Department, the Freeport Police Boys Clubs, the Kiwanis Boys Baseball Team, the Freeport Model Flyers Association, the Long Island Model Flyers Association, the U. S. Naval Reserve, the drill purposes, William Clinton Story Post, A. L., for its Labor Day soap box derby and the Freeport Merchants Association for the start and conclusion of its balloon parade which inaugurated the pre-holiday shopping season.

Solicitation of funds for charitable purposes was permitted by several groups including the Salvation Army, the Red Cross, Mercy Hospital, Justice Chapter, B'nai B'rith, the Freeport Elks Club Welfare fund, the Freeport Fire Department, Benevolent Association and the Gold Star Wives.

In addition several evenings were set aside during the Polo emergency drive for the raising of funds to meet the emergency caused by the severity of the epidemic in Nassau County.

Boys' Groups Use Stadium
Facilities of the stadium were used by various Police Boys Clubs in Nassau County as well as the Freeport organization, the Kiwanis League and the Branch Rickey amateur Boys League playoffs and championship games were staged at the stadium. The Freeport Police Boys Clubs also gave a benefit boxing exhibition and sponsored a soccer game between two international teams. A thrill show also was put on for the first time in the history of the playlot. A Horace Heidt program was staged there while Chubby Jackson put on several square dances at Randall Park. The Leader

Eddie Vasil INTRODUCES ... Raymond E. Clements

"Like many others, I too, have read and heard about the work the Red Cross has done when fires, hurricanes, floods and other disasters have struck, but when the recent railroad tragedy occurred in our own locality, then I fully realized the great humanitarian service rendered by this organization. It is in these times of chaos that systematized training saves many lives and aids the sufferers. We need the Red Cross—now the Red Cross needs us." These were the words of Raymond E. Clements, Chairman of the 1950 Freeport Red Cross Fund Drive.

Ray Clements has been a resident of Freeport for fourteen years. Although only 45 years old, he heads the village's largest import firm "Clements of Freeport" having main offices in Mexico City, and an American branch in Manhattan. Dealing with Central and South America, he has made Ray a veteran air traveler and a fluent speaker of Spanish. His firm introduced the "circle skirt" which has become so popular in the world of fashion and featured in Life magazine. He averages five trips a year to Mexico and personally covers the field to introduce new textiles and styles to the American markets.

Born in Brooklyn, Mr. Clements attended Commercial High School there. From his early boyhood he knew that merchandising and business would be his life's endeavor. His first job was with a big import-export firm in 1922. Leaving high school to obtain practical experience, he, however, continued his studies by taking night courses in the subjects that would help him in his work. The Wembley Co. of New Orleans, largest neckwear manufacturing concern in the U. S., recognized his talents by offering the position of General Sales Manager. The business was built into a four million dollar a year company. The business became associated with the Charles Levy Co., as General Manager with headquarters in their New York offices. In 1943 he formed his own company.

The Ray Clements' (she's the former Emily Kiesel of Scranton, Pa.) reside at 473 Archer st. with their two sons, Raymond E., 16, student at FHS, and Ralph, aged 10. Ray is 1949-50 President of the Freeport Rotary Club, member of the Community Council, and Masons (25 years 32). All of his spare time is now being devoted to the Red Cross Fund Drive with Mr. W. W. Winslow's offices in the Meadow Brook National Bank Building serving as headquarters.

The 1950 Freeport Red Cross quota has been set at $8,750. This organization cannot sponsor any fund raising activities. It is supported entirely by voluntary contributions. "I cannot find enough words," said Mr. Clements, "to tell about the many wonderful projects which are being conducted by this great organization. I consider it a great honor to have been appointed as chairman and I would like to take this opportunity to beg each and every resident of Freeport to give to the Red Cross this year the most generous contribution possible. Heed the plea of the volunteer worker when he comes to your door and together we can help the Red Cross as it has helped us."

Girl Scouts Cookie Sale For Camp Fund Started

The annual sale of cookies for the benefit of Camp Tekakwita, at Hampton Bays, established camp of the South Nassau Council of Girl Scouts, is now in progress. It was started yesterday and will continue throughout March or until the thousands of boxes of delicious vanilla cookies and chocolate mint cookies are disposed of by the girls and their leaders.

The cookies are selling for 35 cents each. All the proceeds are to be used for camp purposes. Camp Tekakwita now has accommodations for 65 girls at each session. Proceeds of the cookie sale, camp officials' hope, will permit the facilities to be increased to 77 girls each two weeks session next summer. A small boat program is contemplated also for which equipment will be needed.

898 Circulation in Day Sets Record for Library

All records for a day in the Freeport Memorial Library were broken on Saturday, Feb. 25, when the circulation totaled 898 books, records and magazines. Of this total the Adult Department figure was 618. It is interesting to note that 330 of this circulation was non-fiction including 74 phonograph records. Mrs. Elizabeth F. Kelly, the librarian, commented.

RAYMOND E. CLEMENTS

Randall Park Permits To Be Issued March 15

Everett C. Furman, chairman of the Park Commission, today cautioned managers of teams planning to apply for use of the diamonds at Randall Park this coming season to do so immediately. He pointed out that permits will be issued on March 15 and all requests should be in the hands of the commission sometime before that date.

He said the same applied to organizations that desire to have nights set aside when they can solicit funds for the benefit of various projects. The date for issuing these permits also is March 15.

Elar Recommends Opening Extension Of Buffalo Avenue

Tells of Advantages
In Annual Report to Board; Statistics

Police Chief Peter Elar in his annual report to the Village Board recommended that the extension of Buffalo ave. be considered and opened for a width of 5 feet temporarily for travel from Sunrise highway to link up with its present terminus just north of East Merrick rd. He also advocates that Buffalo ave. be continued across Sunrise highway and through State property to Lakeview ave.

"By doing this you will save thousands of dollars for the Village on the wear and tear of the vehicles which have to travel miles in order to cross the tracks on the way to the incinerator," he continues. "The saving to the traveling public would also be untold. This would save persons traveling to and from the Freeport Stadium and the Freeport High School Athletic Field."

Another recommendation of the chief is that the board use all efforts to hasten the elimination of the traffic bottleneck on East Merrick rd. east of Henry st.

The report shows only two persons killed in automobile accidents, one a pedestrian and another a passenger, during 1949 as compared with seven the previous year, and one killed by a train. It was the best showing since 1944 when only one person was run down and killed. Accidents reported totaled 831, ten less than in 1948 in which 177 persons were injured, an increase of 31 in the year. Two persons were murdered, there was one drowning and one woman lost her life when she was asphyxiated and burned.

Property valued at $38,291.48 was reported stolen, of which only $6,093.28 was recovered leaving $32,198.20 that was not regained. The figures for 1948, were $34,012.02, $10,801.55 and $23,111.47 respectively. Losses from fires aggregated $33,023, as against $26,222 the previous year, an increase of $6,081. There were 89 general alarms, 130 still alarms, 31 false alarms, one emergency call, one out of town call, and four fires reported for which there were no alarms.

Fines imposed in the police court, payable to the state, amounted to $7,953, against $11,268 in 1948.

Mayor Robert L. Doxsee Reports On Accomplishments Of Administration During Its First Year In Office

Mayor Robert L. Doxsee submitted the following report on his first year in office at the nominating convention of the Unity Party at which Trustees Leonard D. B. Smith and Cord Viebrook were nominated for re-election at the annual village voting on Tuesday, March 21:

Every one in Freeport knows that operating our Village is doing big business in a big way. We are a $48,000,000 corporation, insofar as taxpayers are concerned, for that is the amount of money that you have invested in your properties, your homes and your lawns and gardens. But that is not all. We have millions of dollars invested in public property, in roadways and public buildings, a magnificent electric light plant, a fine sewage disposal system, wells and water works, a municipal stadium, fire equipment and police department. All of these properties are yours, and as yours we have tried to administer them, to make them better fit your needs, to improve them, and bring them up to date, and that has been the job I want to tell you something about as I near the end of my first year as Mayor.

We call ourselves a Village. In fact we have more population than 21 municipalities that are called cities in our own state and larger than thousands of cities the nation over. As your Mayor I want you to know about some of the bigger things that have been done during this past year.

As you know for some time past we have been engaged in a sewer program costing approximately one and a half million dollars. The pumping stations and trunk lines are in and most of the lateral districts are completed. These sewers will be a great boon to the whole southern section of our Village. We have under construction and almost completed one of the most comprehensive parking field programs in the State.

Parking meters were installed during the Summer and are proving a great help in our traffic problem and are keeping our streets open for business transactions. The Henry Street improvement has been completed and while its benefits are perhaps not yet evident, time will show that the previous Board was very farsighted in getting this project under way. The time to widen streets is before permanent structures are completed which make the cost of widening prohibitive. Newton Boulevard east of Henry Street has been widened four feet to take care of the flow of traffic going up Henry Street from Merrick Road and shearing off to meet Sunrise Highway.

Extensive repairs and additions have been made to our water system which make it second to none in Nassau County. We have acquired part of the property necessary for a park in the northeast section. We have acquired a certain amount of waterfront property for the future use of the Village. We have acquired property for a new fire alarm system to be installed at a later date and also additional property for the erection of a new fire house to replace the one presently occupied by Hose Co. No. 5. The building now in use is an old wooden structure covered by stucco and badly in need of repairs. A new building is the only answer and we expect to erect it as soon as the time is right.

We have repaired and painted the outside of the Municipal Building and now are engaged in redecorating the inside. Extensive improvements have been made to our Incinerator increasing the size of the fire boxes and thereby increasing its efficiency. We have created a parking field to the north of the Municipal Building for the use of the municipal employees, thereby relieving the traffic congestion on Ocean Avenue and aiding those wishing to do business with the Village.

We are paying off $76,000 in Capital notes, much of which is not due until next year; $21,000 of this is on the pumping stations and trunk lines of the sewer program now under construction. The other notes are for some of the above mentioned improvements that have been made this year. In addition to paying off $76,000 in Capital notes we expect to have a balance of approximately $50,000 in the treasury when our fiscal year closes.

The Power House has had a good year. We started the year with a balance of $34,000 and we are ending with a balance of $130,000 plus the fact that we have paid out $51,000 on outstanding bonds. While we feel that we have conducted the affairs of the Power House in an efficient and conservative manner we must give much of the credit for this outstanding financial achievement to the fact that fuel oil went down in price, thereby saving us many thousands of dollars in the cost of operation.

We do not anticipate any increase in the tax rate and a slight reduction may very well be possible. More money is being spent on improvements than at anytime in the history of the Village and still we are in a good financial condition.

I do not mean to suggest that our Board is responsible for all the things that have happened this past year, for many of them were instigated by the farsightedness of the previous Board and it fell to us to complete those things so ably started by others. However, I do feel that our Board has done good work and that its members are worthy of your further consideration. I therefore appeal to you, the residents of this Village, to vote for Trustees Smith and Viebrook, so that I may have the aid and cooperation in the year to come of the same group who served so well this past year.

season, but does not qualify for a varsity letter.

L.I. Lighting Going Ahead With Merger Plans

"The announcement of Consolidated Edison Company of New York, Inc., that it is withdrawing its application to acquire a controlling interest in the Long Island Lighting Company System will have no effect whatever either on the impending consolidation of our system companies, or on the operation of our properties," Edward F. Barrett, president of Long Island Lighting Co., announced today.

"We are now awaiting the disposal of appeals to the recent favorable District Court decision to complete consolidation of Long Island with its two subsidiaries, Queens Borough Gas and Electric Company and Nassau & Suffolk Lighting Company. Our construction program is designed to take care of all expanding needs of the territory, and we are confident of the ability of our System to supply all demands for electricity and gas which may be made upon us."

Crawford to Teach Organ For Jack Kahn Music Co.

Jack Kahn announced today that Jesse Crawford, "Poet of the Organ" would conduct classes for the first time on Long Island under the sponsorship of the Jack Kahn Music Co., of 126 South Main st.

He said Mr. Crawford was the acknowledged dean of theatre, recording and radio organists, and has devised a method of teaching the popular style of organ playing. "Even though you have never played any instrument," he said, "There is a short cut to organ playing which is actually much easier to play than the piano." There will be beginners classes for those who have never played or studied any musical instrument, classes for average pianists, others for home organists, semi-professional organists and professional organists.

Enrollments are being accepted for classes beginning early this month.

Dr. Darlington Addresses High School P.T.A. Group

Dr. Oscar G. Darlington, of Hofstra College, spoke on "Parents of the Average Student," at a meeting of Unit 2, of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Freeport Junior-Senior High School Tuesday night. In the absence of John Albee, the unit chairman, George Yarrow, president of the association, presided.

Announcement was made that the dance planned for Saturday night, March 11 had been postponed a week to March 18.

Refreshments were served by a committee comprising Mrs. Anthony Scoplinch, Mrs. Peter J. Guthy, Mr. Yarrow and C. Overton Tremper.

Violinist to Be Heard Here

JOSEPH FUCHS

Joseph Fuchs, New York born violinist, will give the third of a series of four concerts sponsored by the Freeport Community Concert Association Wednesday night in the auditorium of the Freeport High School. Virgil Thompson, of the New York Herald Tribune calls Mr. Fuchs' work, "perfect violin playing."

Joseph Fuchs was a real child prodigy who started studying the violin under Franz Kneisel of the Institute of Musical Art when he was only six. Under the influence of a wise father and a far-sighted teacher, he did not begin a public career until his years had caught up with his fleet fingers. On graduation from the Institute at 17, he won the Isaac Newton Seligman prize of $1,000. Translated into a round-trip ticket to Europe, the young man went abroad and, in a concert tour of Germany and Austria, proved to himself as well as to the critics that he was ready to strike out on his own.

As a soloist with major orchestras including several appearances with the New York Philharmonic-Symphony in a series of New York recitals, and in summer festival engagements at the New York Stadium, Philadelphia's Robin Hood Dell, Washington's Watergate, Chicago's Grant Park, etc., Mr. Fuchs is in constant demand.

Mr. Fuchs plays a famous Stradivarius, dated 1722, and a marvelous example of the Cremona master's art. It is known as the "Cadiz" from the city in Spain where its one-time owner lived. It is also called the "Cannon" because of its powerful tone.

"We would especially like to express thanks to those patients who were already hospitalized at the time of the wreck, and who, on the following day, willingly gave up their rooms or their beds. They cut short their period of convalescence, or postponed long-planned surgical or medical treatment in order that the victims of the wreck might receive the proper care."

"The Board also expresses its thanks to the many volunteers who reported to the Hospital to offer their services, to the nurses of the American Red Cross and to the local chapter of the Red Cross for the prompt offer of many types of service."

"We would also like to thank the surgical supply companies, the wholesale and retail drug houses and the many other commercial organizations who offered assistance."

South Nassau Hospital Heads Thanks All Who Helped Treat Wreck Victims

A public expression of thanks on behalf of the Board of Directors of South Nassau Communities Hospital was made today by Harrison B. Wright, president of the Board, to the many people who served during the disastrous railroad wreck on Friday, February 17.

"On behalf of the Board of Directors," Mr. Wright said, "I would like to express our thanks publicly to the Superintendent, Miss Mary Pearson, and the other administrative officers of the hospital; to the nurses, many of whom voluntarily remained on duty for long hours, others of whom reported upon hearing news of the disaster; to the members of the staff who reported to the hospital and assisted in treating the injured, and to all other members of the Hospital family who performed their tasks in the best traditions of a Hospital staff. They contributed to saving many lives that might have been lost as a result of the tragic wreck."

"The Board also expresses its thanks to the many volunteers who reported to the Hospital to offer their services, to the nurses of the American Red Cross and to the local chapter of the Red Cross for the prompt offer of many types of service."

"We would also like to thank the surgical supply companies, the wholesale and retail drug houses and the many other commercial organizations who offered assistance."

MOVIES, MIKES and TELEVISION TALK

By LYNN WILSON—ANS Features

WELCOME is the word around Hollywood these days with lovely Margaret Sullivan returning to the screen via Columbia Picture's "No Sad Songs For Me." Opposite Maggie will be Wendell Corey with Viveca Lindfors as the other woman. Last seen on Broadway in "Voice of the Turtle" the popular Miss Sullivan has been signed to a seven-year ... 7-year term movie contract.

REALLY GOOD "GOOD SAMARITAN"—There are always some outstanding performances in radio which are worth repeating over and over again, just as in the case of all classics. Among these is the excellent performance on ABC's Sunday afternoon "The Greatest Story Ever Told," which has for the fourth successive year repeated its initial broadcast of "The Good Samaritan" as part of Brotherhood Week observance. It is encouraging to note that this weekly dramatization of the teachings of Christ continues to win additional honors and maintains its reputation as the most highly honored program on the air.

IT'S ALWAYS GREENER on the other side of the fence ... and many women look to a theatrical career as more interesting than staying at home. Not so with Eve Arden, star of CBS' Sunday evening "Our Miss Broome" who would love to find time to just call home. Between stage, movie and radio rehearsals and appearances, she has no time to be a housewife. Her ultimate aim is to leave it all some day and spend her time with her two daughters, Liza and Connie.

And further the stadium was the scene of the annual commencement exercises of the Freeport High School graduating class.

"The year 1950 will witness a continuance of the program of events that should prove of interest to the people and youth of Freeport," Chairman Furman's report continued. "The nature of these new attractions will be the opening of a youth playground at the south end of Randall Park, provision having been made for the installation of swings, shoots, a merry-go-round and play boxes among other things. In addition a program is being worked out for the opening of a roller-skating rink."

Mansperger Calls Honor Society Great Force For Good In Schools

Martin M. Henry St. Widening Bond Sale March 9

Officials Hope Bids On $87,000 Issue Will Equal Water Bond Rate

Bids on a bond issue of $87,000 to finance the widening of Henry st. are to be opened in the Municipal Building on Thursday, March 9, at 2 P.M. Village officials are hopeful that the offers will be as favorable as those received recently for the $150,000 issue of Water Department bonds which were bought at the low interest rate of 1.90 percent.

Mayor Robert L. Dossie commenting on this said:

"It is an encouraging thing in this period of financial difficulties which so many departments of Government are experiencing to take note of the fact that the Village of Freeport has a credit which is highly regarded by the investment houses of New York. It is particularly encouraging in view of the fact that in the village wide and extensive improvements have been carried out. We bought a new engine for approximately half a million dollars. We are putting in a system of parking fields the cost of which will run slightly in excess of half a million dollars and the sewer system in the southern part of the village will cost somewhere in the neighborhood of one and a half million dollars.

"All this is being done without straining the credit of the Village. We have operated conservatively in the way that any good businessman would carry on his own business and the result of this prudent management reflected in the low rate of interest that the taxpayers of Freeport are called upon to pay for moneys borrowed by them to carry out these public purposes."

Dodd, Randall Broadcast Crime Prevention Appeal

Dr. John W. Dodd and John J. Randall, 3rd broadcast over WGBX recently, pointing out that crime is the most serious internal problem facing the country today. It is a postwar by the company than were added in the previous 25 years, president Keith S. McHugh said. The rate of earnings on invested capital was 4.44 per cent. The repaying an even greater price for port pointed out that, "despite the crime in the future, they asserted, largest gross revenues in the company's history," the rate has declined each year since 1946.

Operating revenues increased 10 per cent but expenses including taxes mounted 11 per cent. Interest payments and taxes both increased. Net income available for dividends amounted to $28,800,000, a decrease of 5 per cent. Based on an average of 4,878,000 shares outstanding, earnings were $6.18 a share, and the $9 dividend, which has been paid continuously since 1909 except during World War II, was paid only by drawing 8 1/2 million dollars from the earnings of prior years. Surplus fell below 16 million dollars, or 4 1/2 cents, and particularly the Exchange Club of Freeport, encourages all the boys and girls to take an active part in these organizations.

Give to The Red Cross in Freeport

Freeport has been assigned a quota of $8,725 in the annual Red Cross fund raising campaign. And the people of Freeport should make sure that the village goes over the top.

Nassau County witnessed an actual demonstration of the value of the work of the Red Cross when it met the emergency created by the collision of Long Island Rail Road trains in Rockville Centre, Friday night, Feb. 17, in which 30 persons lost their lives, and the Disaster Motor Service, Canteen and other divisions by fulfilling tasks for which no other organizations were trained.

Many people have felt that while there was a place for the Canteen division to serve food and drinks on certain occasions, the Gray Ladies, nurses, aides and sewing groups, the disaster groups were far fetched. But the Rockville Centre catastrophe showed the value of preparedness, even though the chances of being called on to act, are slight. The Red Cross believes in being prepared for all emergencies.

It may be a long time before the Disaster Motor Service, which is headed by Freeport's own Mrs. Charles J. Jessup, is called on to again jump in in the event of an emergency. But such units are set up all over the country. And sometimes, somewhere there is going to be an emergency, probably many of them, during 1950. Money contributed by Freeporters will help to finance the work in other places where the people are not so able to give, and much of the money will remain in Nassau County to meet any situation that arises. So help us to be prepared. Back up Ray E. Clements, local chairman, in the drive to put Freeport over the top.

REFLECTIONS

By Edmund R. Wernicke

The Laborer

Laugh down upon me from your throne,
Oh wise and lordly man!

Your brain is power—you alone

Conceive the mighty plan.

I am a fool, and 'neath your scorn

I lower tired eyes.

Great brains are few, but there is born

A fool for one who dies.

My gnarled old hands are broken,

My knotted back is bent,

Because my king has spoken,

My great omnipotent.

I live or die to please, my lord,

Then laugh upon my pain!

My uncouth bulk would be abhorred,

But that it serves your brain.

For ignorance: you let no school

Be mine to understand;

But in my soul I scorn, oh fool,

A brain that has no hand.

The Leader Bookshelf

By MRS. ELIZABETH F. KELLY

Librarian, Freeport Memorial Library

"Passionate Pilgrim," by Charles Terrot (Harper & Brothers $2.75).

The author has written an intriguing story of Elizabeth Wheeler, one of the nurses accompanying Florence, Nightingale to Scutari, during the Crimean War, basing it on the personal diary of one of his ancestors who worked with Miss Wheeler.

From the moment the group of Florence Nightingale's "Ladies" left on the "Vectis" in 1854, their service of loyalty and devotion became a part of history, which many are aware of only in part. There were thirty-eight women in this first organized group. In addition to privations and sorrow, these women had to face the cruel indifference of those in charge of the hospital at Scutari. Having once proven themselves, their problems continued as they cared for the wounded soldiers, always striving to obtain the proper food and supplies.

The "Passionate Pilgrim" tells of the romance of Elizabeth Wheeler, of the close friendship between Elizabeth and Sister Sarah Anne, of the single minded ruthlessness which was a part of Florence Nightingale's character. It is a dramatic and rich novel of the period. Young people reading the book will have a clear picture of loyalty.

Hannah Smith, the author of "For Heaven's Sake," is the daughter of a "True Believer" Minister. This faith is more prevalent in the West than here. It is as such she writes of her life. She adored and revered her father, but they didn't always agree and frequently, as a growing girl, his decisions caused her great disappointment and much unhappiness. She felt her father had been "born good, born honest, reliable." Her father had not always been a "True Believer." There had been a family row when Mr. and Mrs. Merriam had been converted to the "True Believer" faith from the Presbyterian, and father had decided to answer the call and prepare for the ministry. Hannah was 5 when this happened, and there was one other child in the family. The week of his graduation father was called to a church—now in 1921 there was a family of 5 to be taken care of on $18.00 a week so father would have to do other work part time in order to make a living.

In "For Heaven's Sake," Hannah tells of the various moves made as her father accepted calls to larger churches. She also tells us of the ridicule she had to take because of her religion, how she hated to see the "Revival" notice posted on the church, how she watched to see if the Presbyterian, or some of the larger churches wouldn't post the same sign. It was hard to go to school and have to dress differently from the other girls.

Once she was so thrilled because she thought she had been accepted at school—she had been asked to take part in the "Autumn Dance"—just to fill around like falling leaves, but father heard about it the day before the program. Dancing was not allowed in the church. How was it father always had the strength to stand firm for things believed in—was she a sinner? This did disturb the growing girl.

Again when 14, Hannah pinned a large pink artificial flower on her shoulder. Father saw it, "Daughter!" To her it wasn't a sin, there wasn't anything against wearing flowers in the Bible, but father thought it was heathen and what about your necktie? You don't need that. When father was ready to take it off, Hannah pleaded that the tie was necessary. The book is full of just such incidents.

In Denver, life was a little easier. Hannah had a year at home before going on to Keeseley College in 1931, and here she heard disturbing things. But she really learned to think. A poem made a difference (read p. 240). At 32 Hannah was married and home for a visit. She and her father sat waiting for her bus—read p. 264.

MESSAGE FROM MAYOR ROBERT L. DOXSEE . . . "The Village of Freeport through the medium of our official paper, THE LEADER, wishes to publicly commend and thank the members of the Freeport Fire Department, Fire Department, Red Cross, Salvation Army, our Clergy, and all other agencies in the Village which cooperated in the recent disaster in our neighboring village of Rockville Centre. Without the untiring aid of these volunteers, the casualty list of this terrible accident would have been much greater. It was truly a wonderful demonstration of America in action."

ROBERT L. DOXSEE, Mayor
Village of Freeport.

WGBB IN THE SPOTLIGHT . . . Although first reports gave various metropolitan radio stations and national broadcasting systems the scoop for Friday night's LIRE tragedy, the final and complete survey showed that Freeport's own radio station WGBB was the first to flash the news of the awful accident. HARRY CARMAN (top exec.) who happened to be in Rockville Centre at the time of the crash, raced back to the studios to release the first bulletin at 10:48 P.M. twelve minutes after it occurred. WGBB staff announcer (see of Mairie and Laile-Troobnick who own the House of Art on North Main st.) was a passenger on the eastbound train involved, which he usually takes home after attending night courses at Columbia. (Usually riding in the fast first car, Kismet made him deviate from his regular routine that evening night. He gave a vivid eye-witness description and continued requests for blood donors throughout the night. WGBB drew professional salutes in Radio Daily, Variety, and other trade publications for its outstanding service. WGBB, we proudly thank you.

STUFF ABOUT THE SPORTSMEN'S SHOW . . . A 4 o'clock snack at VIEBROCK'S brought an invitation from Village Trustee Cord Viebrock to attend the Sportsmen's and Vacation 1950 Show at the Grand Central Palace in New York City. Friday night was Freeport Night and the party consisted of MAYOR BOB DOXSEE, Trustee CORD VIEBROCK, Freeport Water Department Chief GEORGE MAURER and your reporter. A six o'clock start and the parkway and Mid-town Tunnel brought us into Gotham in plenty of time to have Pop Viebrock plan a busman's holiday and arrange for dinner. I've often wondered where ace restaurant men eat—with Viebrock it was Jansen's on Madison ave. This is one of the eating establishments in the city but eating here should be a three-hour event and the Mayor, being too active and anxious to see the waterfront (his son, Bud Derman, ex-FHS, is now a top track man at University of Miami).

Of all the exhibits, Freeport's was probably the most active with audience participation. The automatic tuna fishing attraction, manned by HARRY BERKOWITZ of the "Capt. Jack" and CAPT. VIC MONTE of the "Miss Tony" had the Isaac Wattons lined three deep. The VIKING FLEET, FREEPORT TUNA CLUB and the VAN BLECK CLUB LOOM-ALBERT displays served as a very impressive show window for Freeport's sporting offering. Viking Fleet Captain RUSS REDFIELD, served as a top Freeport Ambassador-of-Goodwill. FRANK DORMAN (V.F. top exec.) showed the many thousands visitors that hospitality is a trademark of our waterfront. (His son, Bud Derman, ex-FHS, is now a top track man at University of Miami).

When Drum Major BURFORD SOUTHAUD (6'4") entered the Palace leading the crack Freeport Fire Department Band, the crowded sports temple vibrated with action and the many thousands of people automatically knew that Freeport was represented. Mayor Doxsee, Trustees Cord Viebrock and Leonard E. Smith, George Maurer, Fire Chief Frank Smith and his deputies, Bob Kinsey and Julie Jacobs, led the march on the elevated stage. I remember hearing Bob Doxsee make his first speech, accepting the Unity Party nomination. He was truly overwhelmed with the honor and his grateful sincerity left him wordless. The Bob Doxsee that spoke for Freeport Friday night at the Sportsmen's Show was a new Bob Doxsee. The Mayor addressed the multitude in a clear impressive voice and his welcoming speech was direct and well received. He spoke with confidence and straight from the heart.

Highlights included the pictures of Trustees Smith and Viebrock competing on the tuna fishing machine, and of the Mayor being shown how to use the rod and reel by Cord Viebrock. (His commercial fishing concern is one of the leading companies on the east coast.) Ace photographer EDDIE BUCKLEY covered as lensman. Congratulations to the exhibitors and participants, and to Freeport for again taking the lead.

DURYEA ORCHID OF THE WEEK . . . This week's flowery token of public appreciation for community achievement is awarded to a pleasant woman who operates a little soda shop at 62 South Grove st. called "Hank's Place." This has been a meeting place for the school students for many years and she watches over them as a second mother. If they do wrong she criticizes; if they do good she credits them. It is therefore a great pleasure to award the DURYEA ORCHID CREATION to MRS. HANK (Mrs.) GAUDSMITH for her great interest in the youth of Freeport. She personally awards five dollars to the High School student who receives the highest report card every six weeks. Her husband, Hank Gaudsmith, with his trained dog act, is one of "show business" most active performers. (Stage, TV, etc.). Good luck to you both!

IN THE MAIL . . . Urgent appeal from this column's readers, the MONTIFIORE family of 10 E. Woodbine Drive, for information and return of their pet dog, a toy pomeranian, picked up last Friday (17th) in the vicinity of Lena and Ocean aves. CAROLE MONTIFIORE and the members of the family are heartbroken and miss their pet very much. Please call FReeport 8-7954 if you have any information. (A reward is being offered.)

WE SALUTE . . . The twelve members of the Holy Redeemer Alpha Omega dance decorating committee for proving that the youth of today, is thoughtful and serious. While they were decorating the hall Saturday morning for their annual dance that night, word was received that appeals were being made for blood donors following Friday night's RVC LIRE tragedy. They immediately dropped everything to rush over to S. Nassau Communities Hospital where every youngster donated his share of the much-needed blood.

LEADER'S DIGEST . . . MISS VIRGINIA VINEY, contralto soloist of the Church of the Ascension, NYC, and WBSZ Thrift Radio Choir, opens her vocal cords for a 4 o'clock performance at 8 o'clock. MORRIS CARLISLE takes over as sole owner of the O & Z popular Merrick rd. eatery. One of our favorite countermen: GEORGE PITTSICOURAS, night man at JACK HARRIS' Grill Room. Watch EDDIE YANKWITT of CRESS CONSTRUCTION make an interesting announcement about a new enterprise: he is dickering to locate in Freeport. BOB HOPE due for N.Y. Paramount performance should break all records. Committee for gala "Night of Stars" trying to locate LEONARD BRUCE, Arthur Godfrey star. (Contact this column.)

Earl Griffith Room Dedicated At The South Shore Yacht Club

More than 200 members of the South Shore Yacht Club attended the dedication of the Earl Griffith room, named in the honor of the former treasurer of the club, Sunday evening, Mr. Griffith, who was long active in the affairs of the organization, died in 1947.

Following dancing earlier in the evening, Andrew McCarville, chairman of the entertainment committee, called on the members to assemble at the head of the stairs as Mr. Griffith's widow was escorted to the scene.

Dr. Richard G. McChesney delivered the dedication address, outlining in detail the many things Mr. Griffith did for the interests of the club as treasurer and in other capacities. He concluded by reading the resolution adopted at the time of Mr. Griffith's death.

All then ascended the stairs and assembled outside the cocktail lounge, which has been fitted up as a room designated as the get-together center of the club. There Mrs. Griffith pulled a ribbon across the doorway, unveiling a plaque above the door containing an appropriate inscription.

Commodore and Mrs. Carl Schutler, the other line officers and their wives and the steward and his wife, then formed a line and welcomed the other members of the club as they passed by.

The Smorgasbord supper served in the clubhouse Sunday from 5 to 9 P.M. also drew a large gathering, 180 members participating in the meal and the rest of the program provided for the evening.

The lowly Flounders took a series from the Flukes, top team in the Archer Dads Bowling League Thursday night. And as the second place Hackleheads downed the Pilots, 5 to 0, they gained three points on the leaders. The Bonitas gave the Flukes the same treatment.

A & P Cites Case Instigators Killed

'Dropped' Dallas Case In 1944 on Adverse Ruling by the Court

The anti-trust lawyers, previously defeated three times in different federal courts, "killed their own case" against The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. at Dallas, A & P contends in advertisements which appeared in newspapers throughout the country.

But this did not end the 10-year campaign against A & P, according to the fourth advertisement in a series discussing previous unsuccessful attacks on the pioneer food chain by anti-trust lawyers.

"The anti-trust lawyers were not satisfied with decisions against them by three federal judges," the ad says. "They still wanted to destroy A & P."

The advertisement tells how in 1944 the Dallas case, based on allegations similar to those in the current suit to put A & P out of business, was thrown out of court by Federal Judge W. H. Atwell.

On appeal, the ad says, the Circuit Court at New Orleans, although reinstating the indictment, agreed that it was "vague and contained many allegations which were inflammatory." The court decided Judge Atwell "should protect A & P from these inflammatory allegations by striking them out."

Judge Atwell struck down the statements, the ad says, and instructed the anti-trust lawyers to furnish him "specific charges instead of vague generalities."

"On February 26th while the judge was still waiting for his answer in Dallas, and without any previous notice to him," the ad states, "the anti-trust lawyers gave a story to the newspapers in Washington, announcing that they were dropping the case in Dallas."

In dropping the case, the anti-trust lawyers were quoted as saying they intended "to file a substantially similar suit in an appropriate jurisdiction at an early date."

The "early date" proved to be the same day, A & P says in the advertisement.

"As soon as one anti-trust lawyer killed the case in Dallas, another anti-trust lawyer filed a new case in Danville, Ill.," the ad continues.

"This new case made most of the same allegations that had been made and dropped in Dallas and that are being made against us today."

"Despite defeats in three federal courts in widely separated parts of the country, anti-trust lawyers continued their campaign to destroy A & P."

When Judge Atwell heard of their action, he ordered the anti-trust lawyers to prepare an order for his signature dismissing the Dallas case, the advertisement says. In signing the order, the judge told the lawyers:

"This nolle prosequi does not have the sanction or approval of this court," Judge Atwell said. "That is a matter that may be presented to the other court and may be of interest to the people at large."

Summarizing previous actions in the anti-trust lawyers' 10-year attack on A & P, the advertisement observes:

"Three times the anti-trust lawyers went into federal courts and made serious and damaging charges against A & P. Three times federal judges said the anti-trust lawyers were wrong and rendered decisions against them."

After they failed in Washington, D.C., and Wilson, N.C., and Dallas, Tex., the ad concludes, they "moved on" to Danville, Ill.

"They were still determined to destroy this company which had brought more and better food at lower cost to millions of American families."

How to telephone out of town at bargain rates:

First, use the fast, low-cost Station-to-Station service—which means you will talk to anyone who answers your call.

Second, take advantage of low night and Sunday rates, generally in effect from 6 p.m. to 4:30 a.m. weekdays and all day Sunday.

WILLIAM B. BILLMEYER, Manager

YOU KNOW HOW MOTHER IS, SHE'N worry if she doesn't hear from you—and there's nothing like a long distance call to put her mind at ease. It doesn't cost a penny extra, either, to put Dad on the line for a few words.

YOU CAN'T PASS OUT CIGARS over the telephone—but you can let all your out-of-town friends and relatives in on the "big event." You'll get a kick out of saying, "It's a boy...or a girl...or twice" over the long distance wires.

It costs so little to call—

Here are typical Station-to-Station night and Sunday rates from FREEPORT
